

•—•The Day of Yarmouk•—•

Did you not see us victorious upon the Yarmouk,
The way we prevailed in the campaigns of Iraq?
And We conquered the region of 'Azra in Al-Madain,
And the plain of Saffrin long ago.
We had earlier conquered Basri where
Even birds were not allowed to fly.
We killed those who stood against us
With flashing swords, and we have their spoils.
We killed the Romans until they were reduced
Upon the Yarmuk, to emaciated leaves.
We smashed their army as they rushed headlong
To the Neck-Breaker, with our sharp steel.
By morning they tumbled into it, reaching
The mysterious matter that defies the senses.

[Al-Qa'qa' bin Amr (RH), commander in Khalid bin Al Waleed's (RH) army about the battle of al Yarmouk]
